Is Ordered Engrossed By The Assembly
Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., March 27.—The senate today adopted the Husting resolution to begin voting for United States senator on April 16th. This action followed a long debate and a call of the house, in which Senators Munson, Barker, Page, Roehr, Branzau, Noble, Froemming, Huddall and Wright stood out against fixing the date.

With the Assembly
The resolution now goes to the assembly and it is that body concurs the first ballot for the successor to John C. Spooner will be taken at noon of April 16th.

State Fire Marshal
The assembly ordered to engross-ment, after over an hour's debate, the Cleary bill, to create the office of state fire marshal. Cleary and Norcross made vigorous speeches in favor of the bill, while half a dozen members opened fire on the measure.

Ties Is Against
Assemblyman Ties of Green county spoke against the measure, contending it involved a needless expenditure of state money in that it created four berths with salaries of $3,000, $2,500, $1,800 and $1,500.

District Residence
Assembly committee on state affairs recommends for passage the Baker residence district option bill. A district may contain from 100 to 1,000 electors.

ANDREW CARNEGIE ENDORSED ROOSEVELT

Lunched with the President; Then Gave Out His Official Opinion of Railroad Legislation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., March 27.—Andrew Carnegie lunched with the President today and expressed the following opinion on the railroad situation: "I absolutely endorse the President's attitude toward the railroads. He is the best friend they have. They ought to realize it. The railroads had better stand with him. If they do not accept his moderate measures they may be confronted by a man in the White House who will approach the question of railroads from an entirely different standpoint. I regard the President's influence as to the railroads wholesome and conservative."

DEVIL WORSHIP IS REVIVED IN PARIS

Raid Made as Result of Anonymous
Letters Acquainting Police
With Facts.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Paris, March 27.—The cult of Devil worshippers, whose scandalous orgies shocked all Paris some years ago, has been revived. A quiet café appears to have been selected as the temple for the carrying out of the blasphemous ritual associated with the worship of the Satan. An upstairs room was fitted up in imitation of a church. Anonymous communications acquainting the police with what was going on. The worshippers were in the habit of assembling nightly at the café. Afterwards they proceeded to the upstairs room, which had been fitted with thick doors and iron shutters, and further protected from prying eyes by the addition on the inside of heavy curtains. The police inquiries brought to light the fact that the "black mass" was celebrated nightly. There was an altar, covered with black, on which was set up an effigy of the Devil. The whole ceremony was a travesty of Christian worship. The Devil worshippers appear to have been made aware of the intended raid, and so they fled in time, thus evading the police. All they left behind were a number of documents dealing with their ritual and a luxuriously-fitted room.

The ice went out of the lake Sunday and Meyer and his companions conceived the idea of going ice swimming in the icy water.

SIDNEY PERHAM HALE AND HEARTY ON 88TH BIRTHDAY

Ex-Governor Of Maine, Framer Of Much Pension Legislation, And One Time Prominent Politician.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., March 27.—Former Governor Perham of Maine, who has spent his winters in Washington for some years, celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday anniversary today at his home in Westminster street. Many friends and admirers called during the day to congratulate the former politician. He is as active intellectually and as hale physically as when twenty or thirty years younger. Though almost unknown to the present generation, Governor Perham was a conspicuous figure in public life forty years or more ago. Born in 1819, he began on the basis of a common school education, supplemented by one term in a small academy. At thirty-five he was elected to the Maine legislature and made speaker on the first day's session, the only instance in the history of the state when a person with no legislative experience was chosen to that post. He was made a presidential elector in 1856. In 1862 he was elected to congress, and was subsequently twice re-elected by increased majorities. During this term of service, and while chairman of the House committee on pensions, he superintended the complete reorganization of the pension bureau. His election as governor of Maine occurred in 1870 and was twice confirmed by re-elections. He was a democrat until 1853, when he followed the lead of Anson P. Morrill, then candidate for governor of Maine. While primarily of an executive disposition, Governor Perham has always been widely celebrated as an orator. Several of his addresses in the House—particularly that on the impeachment of President Johnson, and on "Relief from Taxation and the National Finances"—were regarded as exceptionally able and effective. Since his withdrawal from active politics Governor Perham has served as director in many educational and other public institutions. Among other things, Mr. Perham, while in congress, was the author of the enactment providing for the granting of $2 per month additional pension to each one of the minor children of a soldier. Prior to July 25, 1866, a widow drew no pension on account of her minor children; and when the widow was dead, only $3 was paid where there were several minor children of an enlisted man. This enactment stands on the statute books today in the same language as he presented it to the pension committee in 1866. Governor Perham also advocated reform in the Maine jail system, so as to provide for the employment of prisoners in some industrial pursuit; an industrial school for girls; the establishment of free high schools, and arranged for biennial elections and sessions of the legislature. He was appointed appraiser for the port of Portland and held the office for eight years, when he resigned. In 1891 he served on a commission appointed by President Harrison to select a site for a dry dock in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR EZRA CORNELL'S CENTENNIAL

Celebration Planned For Birthday Of Ithacan University's Founder And Original tor Of Telegraph Pole Idea.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Ithaca, N. Y., March 27.—Arrangements for the celebration of the centennial of the birth of Ezra Cornell, founder of the Cornell University, and the dedication of the new buildings of the New York state college of agriculture have been completed. The exercises will be held one month from today and will extend over two days. The first day will be devoted to the Cornell centennial celebration and the second day to the dedication of the new college buildings. Andrew Carnegie of the board of trustees has been selected to deliver the principal address on Ezra Cornell. The faculty has selected as their spokesman Andrew D. White, first president of the university, and the alumni committee has selected Senator Joseph B. Foraker, class of '69, and Dr. David Starr Jordan, class of '72, president of Leland Stanford Jr. university. Ezra Cornell, whose memory it is proposed to honor so elaborate a scale, won the gratitude of posterity not only by founding the great university which bears his name but by other works as well. He was born on a farm at Westchester Landing, N. Y., Jan. 11, 1807, and was of Quaker ancestry. As a youth he followed the several occupations of millwright, machinist and farmer. At the age of 21 he walked from De Ruyter, N. Y., whither his family had moved soon after his birth to Ithaca, where he continued as miller and mechanic for 13 years. He had a prominent part in the erection of the first experimental telegraph lines. He was 34 years old when he made the acquaintance of a Mr. Smith of Portland, Me., who had the contract to lay underground the lead pipe containing the four insulated wires of the projected Morse telegraph between Washington and Baltimore. Cornell already had displayed considerable inventive genius, and at Mr. Smith's suggestion he put his mind to the task of producing a machine that would excavate a narrow trench about two feet in depth, lay the wire within it and cover it over, all at one operation. This led to an acquaintance with Prof. Morse, and later, when it was found impossible to have perfect insulation, Cornell suggested to Morse that the telegraph wires be strung on poles. This suggestion was carried out, and Cornell began to make money out of his contracts to erect telegraph lines. He built the line between New York and Albany, and when he had made enough money to carry out his plan he built several lines in the western states. ## MANSLAUGHTER WILL BE THE CHARGE MADE

New York Central Railroad Officials Are to Suffer From Train-men's Mistake.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, March 27.—Indictments charging manslaughter in the second degree were returned against the New York Central railroad, Ira A. McCormick, general superintendent, and Alfred H. Smith, vice president, in connection with the wreck of the Brewster Express on the Harlem Division last month. McCormick and Smith entered pleas of not guilty and were released on ten thousand dollars bail.

Thaw looked better physically today than for some time past. All the members of his family were in court. His mother and his wife engaged in an animated conversation during the short session of the court. The adjournment until Monday is taken as indication that Justice Fitzgerald expects the inquiry into Thaw's mental condition will be of short duration. Delmas was not present today and Hartledge was fixed upon as the member of the Thaw counsel upon whom all notices are to be served.

Alabama Educators.
Mobile, Ala., March 27.—Everything is in readiness for the entertainment of the twenty-sixth annual meeting of the Alabama Educational association, which will begin its sessions in this city tomorrow. The program is one of the best ever arranged for a meeting of the association, providing, as it does, for addresses by a number of prominent teachers and discussions covering every phase of educational work. The sessions will be held morning and evening in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium. James H. Foster of Tuscaloosa, is the president of the association and will preside over the meeting.

PETER STRICKLER IS SUDDENLY NO MORE

Old and Respected Resident Passed Away This Morning After Illness of a Few Hours' Duration.

Peter G. Strickler, an old and highly respected citizen of Janesville, died suddenly at half-past three o'clock this morning, after an illness of but a few hours' duration. He was prostrated with a complication of stomach trouble and heart disease about four o'clock yesterday afternoon. Deceased was born at Lebanon, Pa., Sept. 17, 1837, and came to this city from South Bend, Ind., in 1879. At that time he was engaged as general agent for the Birdsall Mfg. Co. He represented the J. I. Case and the Minnesota Chief threshing companies until 1883, at which time he engaged in the hay and feed business on his own account. From that time up to the present all his efforts had been devoted to building up this successful concern. He served with the 127th Pennsylvania Volunteers during the Civil War and was a member of the local Grand Army post. There are left to mourn his loss a wife and five children—Frank B. Strickler, Mrs. B. C. Jackson, Mrs. F. L. Church, Mrs. F. Bernasek, and Charles J. Strickler—all of Janesville. The funeral will be held from the home, 105 North Bluff street, at half-past two o'clock, Friday afternoon, Rev. J. W. Laughlin officiating.

ASSEMBLYMAN BAKER ON GEORGIAN TRIP

Evansville Man With Governor Davidson and Sub-Committee of State Capital Commission.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, March 26.—Assemblyman A. S. Baker spent Sunday at home and on Monday accompanied Gov. Davidson and other members of the sub-committee of the capital commission to Georgia, where they go to inspect the marble quarries at that point. Before returning they will probably also visit the granite quarries in New England with a view to selecting exterior material for the construction of the new capitol. On their way home they will stop in Washington, Chicago, and other cities to look over buildings which have been constructed of these materials. Mr. Baker expects to be gone about a week or ten days.

Ralph Smith has returned from Decatur, Alabama, where he was called by the illness of his father, Harvey Smith, who died a few moments before his son arrived. Mr. Smith was a former resident of this city and for a number of years was engaged in the furniture business here, and a large circle of friends sympathize deeply with the bereaved family.

Frank Heddies and family who went to Colorado early in the fall for the benefit of Mr. Heddies' health, expect to start for Evansville about the first of April. It is said that Mr. Heddies is very much better and will be able to attend to his business affairs as usual.

THE ROUNDUP COLUMN.

From the Mizzentop Lookout Perch West Secs. Baseball Heaving To.

With the two big leagues opening the baseball fray April 11 there's no reason why the tears (not tears) and cares of life should worry any one. Baseball is the panacea for all ills except those of the manager who tries to run a first class team on a third class salary basis.

The usual bunch of two-line announcements and two column retractions and contradictions is perambulating through the newspapers, and the only team captain who has not shouted forth fulminations that his outfit will win everything in sight in 1907 is the captain of the deaf mute team near Louisville, Ky. Imagine what a strain some captains would be under if they were stricken dumb at this stage of the proceedings.

Bull captains will never learn that, as a rule, the best argument is silence.

An esteemed contemporary says "President Ban Johnson of the American league strives to please." Evidently through a typographical error the magic word "himself" was omitted from the end of the sentence.

Soon the cry of "What's the score?" will again be heard in the land. That is music to the ears of the baseball lover.

Spotting Life.

But the answer isn't in many cases.

A man's popularity in baseball consists quite as much in what he doesn't do as what he does do.

The office that seeks the man generally has to be sicked on, like a dog.

You can't make baseball hay while the sun shines if you haven't got the grass to cut.

There is not only mightier than the sword, but it is a whole lot safer way of fighting.

There are no free passes on the road to success.

Have we to be continually reminded that the word "ski" is pronounced "skeet"?

It is easy to look on the bright side of a bee sting when the other fellow gets stung.

A man is a failure when he is willing to sell his experience for less than he paid for it.

In politics the dark horse is frequently a nightmare.

Sebring, formerly of the Pittsburg and Cincinnati National teams, is in the off season a wanderer in the jail at Williamsport, Pa., and it is his delight during the ball playing season to regale his friends with the many amusing incidents which fall to his lot when he is attending to his jail duties.

Sebring tells the story of a smart Philadelphia pickpocket whom he had under his care year before last.

This fellow, according to Sebring, was a chap of ready wit and when one day the ball player asked him if the pickpocket game wasn't a mighty difficult occupation the crook in a nonchalant manner replied, "Oh, it's easy enough when you get your hand in!"

The DELIGHTS of BALLOONING

READY TO ASCEND

More and more interest is being taken in ballooning in this country as the time approaches for the great international contest at St. Louis this coming summer, and people who have never had the opportunity of a balloon journey or who would have lacked the courage to venture had the opportunity for flight come, are eager to read how it feels to others to be caught up into the heavens and to be driven hither and thither by the fitful winds like a bit of fleecy cloud. Men aeronauts are common and their experiences have often been related, but the woman balloonist is still among the rare things of earth, and just what the sensations of ballooning are to her have not so often been told. There have been numerous women parachute jumpers in this country but few if any balloonists. In Europe, however, there are several daring women aeronauts, among them Princess di Teano. Of her experiences she says:

The first thing that strikes one after becoming a convert to ballooning is the extraordinary ignorance of everybody in general concerning the sport. To begin with, an idea firmly rooted in the human mind is that whichever way the wind is blowing, and at whatever rate, you must immediately and inevitably be carried out to sea and drowned the only other alternative is that the balloon should burst in mid-air, and that forthwith you are landed in fragments on Mother Earth. There seems no middle course available. If you are of an argumentative turn of mind you will point out that on a tolerably calm and clear day there is no reason why you should not descend before you are on the brink of the sea, for possessing eyesight and maps you can scarcely come on it unawares, and if you start in a gale you know what to expect and are willing to risk it. Balloons do not burst through pure contrariness, and only a suicidally-inclined aeronaut would tie up the neck of his balloon and thus court disaster. If you succeed in arguing out these two points, your friends will fall back on the minor horrors of ballooning. They will say they are bad sailors and would certainly be ill all the time; besides which they suffer from giddiness, and would no doubt jump overboard. Of giddiness I know nothing, having never experienced it, either when ballooning or otherwise; but as to seasickness I can speak with assurance, for if anybody was likely to feel it in a balloon I should be the first sufferer. No, it is all comfort and peace and perfect rest. From the moment that the signal "Hands off!" is given and you have cleared the roofs of the adjoining houses you may settle down among the ballast-bags for a happy day. The air is absolutely still, for you travel with the wind, and therefore do not feel even the faintest breezes. There is no sense of motion, of course—how could there be?—for there is nothing to jar or shake the car. The world is stretched beneath you as a large unrolled map of which you cannot see the corners.

A few well-known places indicate your course, and are an ever-changing interest.

Sounds reach one from the earth with curious distinctness. Even at a considerable height I have often heard a dog barking from what seemed startlingly near, when we were really several thousand feet up, and a man on a road, would only seem a tiny black speck at that distance.

The foot of a motor-borne and church bells are other sounds that carry very far, and constantly bring back to one's memory the existence of life on earth. Personally I do not care for the middle course in ballooning and my tastes are divided between "trailing" and getting above the clouds. In the second case, there, indeed, the magic charm of ballooning grips you in full, and you feel in another world and another life. The sun shines hotly in a blue sky, while beneath your little car and all around it is a wonderland of clouds, over and through which you gently sail, the shadow of the balloon distinctly outlined on the white mass of vapor. Some of the effects are marvelous; every cloud has a different color and a different shape. I have seen some purple-blue ones lying perfectly horizontally across the sky, and great, spiked, craggy, white ones coming down on the top of them, for all the world like the glaciers of Spitzbergen descending to the sea. Then little detached white clouds, like small icebergs, would float across the darker mist, completing the illusion perfectly. The balloon would sail round the edge of some huge, solid-looking mass, that offered such delightful peeps of smooth stretches, mysterious caverns, and untrodden heights that one longed to anchor in one of its many little bays, and land in this wonderful new country to explore its beauties.

If you have once been in cloud-land you can never forget its charm, and even from solid earth and amongst life's prosy occupations you look at the clouds with new eyes, for they are all old friends. You have been amongst them and know what they look like from the other side. I feel quite a sadness when it is necessary to leave cloud-land, and sink through the mist to see the world, with its white roads and clumps of trees, becoming visible once more.

I am often asked what "trailing" means. The trail-rope, or guide-rope, that hangs from the balloon is generally 250 feet long, so that when you are 200 feet from the ground you have 50 feet of rope trailing over the country behind you. As soon as the end of the rope touches the ground you are "trailing." It slackens your speed, but steadies the balloon enormously, keeping her always at the same height and enabling you to travel for quite a long time with very little expenditure of ballast. Trailing is grand fun, but it has its drawbacks. To begin with, people you meet imagine that, having descended so low, you wish to alight altogether, and chase the trail-rope in hopes of capturing the balloon. A good deal of shouting is necessary to explain that is not your intention, and some individuals get quite huffy at the idea that you do not wish to alight in their field. The long, wriggling line of rope does not damage in the open country, but over houses and flower-beds it is a different matter, and it is often wiser to sacrifice a little ballast and rise above other people's chimney-pots. On a calm day it is very pleasant to be able to descend gently to the ground by simply opening the valve, and after you have stayed there long enough and wish to go on, by discharging a small quantity of ballast you can easily rise again to quite a good height. Mr. T. H. Butler told me that in one of his recent ascents he came down no fewer than eight times during the trip.

READ AND DIGEST A FEW FACTS

People will realize this spring that most all kinds of goods are higher. We carry such a tremendous stock, and placed such large orders for goods months ago before the sharp advances, that we are in a position to sell the same old reliable grades of goods, in many instances, at old prices.

More and more are thinking people learning that the assortments of dry goods, ready-to-wear garments, upholstery, curtains, carpets, rugs, etc., to be found here so large and complete that they cannot serve their best interests by staying away.

The temptation for merchants to offer poorer grades of goods this spring in order to sell at certain prices, and still show as much profit as they formerly made, is a strong one. Look out.

A WORD ABOUT THE WASH GOODS.

Without doubt, this is the largest and most attractive wash goods stock we have ever offered. The freshness of the goods, the beauty of the patterns are most inviting, and there are many exclusive styles for first choosers: CHECKS AND PLAIDS, mercerized finish, soft silky cotton stuffs, beautiful shadings, 27 in., 25c and 30c.

OF MUSLINS, plain and barred, with dots, flowers and figures, an immense collection, 27 to 30 inch, at 7, 10, 12½, 15c.

TWO-TONE MUSLIN CHECKS, with embroidered figures, excellent value 25c.

ARCADIAN SILK, a sheer muslin in delicate colorings, checked off with silk cord, beautiful sheer material, 35c.

DAINTY WHITE CHECKED MUSLINS with embroidered figures in the daintiest of floral patterns, pink, blue, green, etc., 35c.

FINE MERCERIZED GINGHAM, zephyr weight, and sheer Muslins, both in pin checks, lovely fabrics, 50c.

AT 25c, Silk Warp Muslins, fine and firm, in exquisite large floral patterns, the best value in our great stock, 50 pieces to select from, width 27 in.

FINE DIMITIES with small and medium, even and broken checks, and dainty small and large colored flowers, at 25c.

SILKIZED POPLIN in plain colors, a mercerized cloth of good weight—permanent silk finish, and launders nicely, 45c.

BANZAI SILK, plain and figured, silk warp, light and dark effects, a popular cloth for 50c.

MADRAS SHIRTINGS, 3000 yards, five styles for shirts and dresses. They give splendid satisfaction—plain 15c, fancy 25c.

THE GINGHAM FAMILY. Here can be found gingham in every quality; 6, 7, 8, 10, 12½, 15c, 20, 25, 35, and 50c; fully 2000 pieces. Strong assortments at 12½ and 25c. They are very hard to get as but few wholesale houses are able to deliver them today.

READ THE WANT "ADS."

WANTS PEOPLE TO NAME FAVORITE SON

FORAKER'S PLAN FOR VOTE IN OHIO ON PARTY LEADER.

HIS EAR IS TO THE GROUND

Seeks Only Such Political Honors as Constituents Desire for Him—Doesn't Concede Taft Is Choice.

Washington, March 27.—That Senator Foraker does not concede that Secretary Taft will be Ohio's choice for the presidential nomination next year is made plain by a statement issued by the senator Tuesday night. He says that he "does not want any political honors from the people of Ohio without their hearty approval," and he suggests that the proper way to determine who is the choice of the people to head the Republican national ticket and to represent the state in the United States senate is for the Republican state executive committee to authorize a primary election to choose delegates to the state convention which will be called upon to determine these questions.

The announcement of the state superintendent of insurance, Arthur I. Vorys, that he will support Secretary Taft for the presidential nomination led Senator Foraker, it is believed, to issue the statement outlining his position. The senator declares that he is willing to go before the people on his record and that he has "nothing to conceal from his constituents."

Has His Ear to the Ground.

Mr. Foraker does not say that he will be a candidate to succeed President Roosevelt, but it is generally understood among his friends in Washington that at a later date he will formally announce his candidacy and that if the primary election is called in Ohio, he will enter into the fight to secure the endorsement of his own state.

Senator Foraker's statement in full follows:

"I have been so busily occupied that I have had neither time nor disposition to even think about politics, either state or national, especially politics that belong to next year.

"It seems to me premature to be now discussing what is so far ahead. However, in view of the interviews and announcements of one kind and another that are appearing in the newspapers, I feel that I may with propriety say that I do not want any political honors from the Republicans of Ohio without their hearty approval.

Wants Convention to Decide.

"In order that there may be no doubt as to their preferences, I shall at the proper time request the Republican state committee to issue a call for a Republican state convention, to be composed of delegates elected by the Republicans of the state at duly authorized primary elections, for the purpose not only of nominating candidates for state offices to be voted for at our next state election, but also to determine the preference of the Republicans of Ohio as to candidates for United States senator and for president.

"If this suggestion should meet with favor, it should be provided that the primary elections shall be held at a convenient time long enough after the call thereof has been issued to enable all who are interested in the work of the convention, so to be chosen, to appear before the people and discuss the public questions about which we are all concerned, so that the people who are interested may intelligently in the selection of their delegates, thus bringing this selection as nearly to a direct popular vote as is possible under the laws now in force.

"I have no opinions to conceal from my constituents and there is no point in my public record, as to which I am not ready to render them a full account."

HOME STAKE MINE ON FIRE.

Miners Rescued with Difficulty—Flooding May Be Necessary.

Deadwood, S. D., March 27.—A fierce fire is burning in the 600-foot level in the Home Stake mine at Lead, and it may become necessary to flood that part of the workings to put out the flames.

A dozen miners were caught back of the point where the fire started and were rescued with difficulty. A number of them had been overcome by gas and smoke. Nine horses have been burned to death.

The fire started Monday evening in the stables at the 600-foot level and spread quickly to the timbered slopes between the Highland shaft and the Star hoist. No miners, except a few to fight the fire, were allowed to enter the mine Tuesday.

Begins Suit for $20,000,000.

Newark, N. J., March 27.—Suit to recover $20,000,000 from the trustees of the estate of the late Isabelle E. Schegel, widow of Isaac M. Singer, who organized the Singer Sewing Machine company, was begun in this city Tuesday by Paul C. W. Schegel of Paris. Mr. Schegel was the third husband of the former Mrs. Singer.

Oldest Railway Mail Clerk Dies.

Elkins, W. Va., March 27.—Capt. A. S. Barnes, the oldest in point of service of the United States railway mail service men, died at the city hospital here Tuesday of aneurism, aged 59 years. His remains will be taken to Conneville, Pa., for interment.

BATTLE IN MUSKOGEE, I. T.

"UNITED SOCIALISTS" AND FOUR FEDERAL MARSHALS FIGHT.

Three Members of Negro Organization
Are Killed and Several White Men Wounded.

Muskogee, I. T., March 27.—As a result of a fight between members of an organization of negroes known as the United Socialists on one side and city and government officers on the other, late Tuesday afternoon, John Coffield, a white police officer, was shot through the body just above the heart and will die; Guy Fisher (white), a clerk in a wholesale grocery establishment, was shot through the shoulder; Sam and Elbert Barker and a man named Scott, all negroes, are dead, two other negroes whose names cannot be learned, were badly wounded and in hiding with friends, and six negroes are in jail.

The United Socialists are established in many Indian Territory towns, and one of their claims is that the United States authorities have no jurisdiction over the members. The leader of the organization, William Wright, a negro preacher, is among those arrested.

The fight took place at a house occupied by the members of the organization. Officer Coffield went to the house to serve a warrant on Elbert Barker, and was shot down. In response to a riot call, United States Deputy Marshals Ledbetter, Hubbard, Williams and Smith responded. When they reached the porch of the building they were met by the Barkers, and in reply to the demand that they surrender, one of the negroes raised his Winchester rifle to fire on the officers. The four officers opened fire almost simultaneously, both of the negroes being wounded.

Then followed a fusillade in which about 50 shots were fired, resulting in the wounding of Fisher and the two other negroes and the killing of Scott.

NEBRASKA HITS RAILWAYS.

Legislature Passes Bill That Will Increase Their Taxation.

Omaha, Neb., March 27.—The passage by the Nebraska legislature Tuesday of the bill for the taxation of railroad property in cities and villages for local purposes on the same basis on which other property is taxed, marks the end of a fight that began in the legislature of 1901 and has been waged with bitter spirit in every succeeding session. It was started by the late Edward Rosewater, editor of the Bee.

The bill will increase the annual assessment of railroads in Nebraska upwards of $500,000 on present property, to say nothing of vast improvements now being made, between $100,000 and $125,000 of which will go into the city treasury of Omaha.

The bill went to the governor and will be signed by him, as he has been one of its staunchest advocates.

The senate Tuesday passed the house bill prohibiting in the train service at night of telegraph operators less than 21 years of age. The house voted to accept the amended anti-pass bill and reported it for passage. It prohibits railroad passes for practically everyone except for bona fide employees of railroads.

MEXICO ASKED TO INTERVENE.

Salvador Makes Move to Restore Peace in Central America.

Mexico City, March 27.—Mexico has been asked to intervene in the present troubles in Central America by the republic of Salvador.

Dr. Baltazar Eustupian, the minister to Mexico from that country, had a long conference with President Diaz Tuesday afternoon, and at its conclusion sent a dispatch to Ambassador Greel at Washington. The contents of the message were not made public, but it was thought that the ambassador was instructed to say to the United States that Mexico was ready to join the northern republic in demanding that hostilities cease.

NEBRASKA CHILD LABOR LAW.

Drastic Measure Passed, Boys on Farms Being Exempt.

Lincoln, Neb., March 27.—The senate Tuesday passed the house child labor bill, amending it so as to exempt from its provisions boys who work on farms, and other boys between the ages of 14 and 16 years who have an eighth grade school certificate. The house acquiesced in the amendments and the bill goes to the governor.

The bill is very drastic, making it unlawful for children under 16 to be employed at night and for those under 14 to work at all, with the above exceptions.

Grandmother Asks Divorce.

Laporte, Ind., March 27.—A sensation was created here Tuesday when Mrs. Louise V. Fosdick, aged 53 years, and a grandmother, after 33 years of married life, brought suit for divorce against her husband, Dr. William Fosdick, a well-known northern Indiana dentist, and made startling accusations, including cruelty.

David Hecht Not Guilty.

Winchester, Ind., March 27.—The jury in the case of David Hecht, of Evansville, Ind., a former member of the state board of pharmacy, charged with having offered chemistry questions to a druggist for a money consideration, returned a verdict of acquittal Tuesday night.

LOCAL POLITICS

Not much can be said of the local political situation. The democrats have only sought to nominate a candidate for two offices, that of city clerk in the person of Frank L. Smith and for justice of the peace for the short term. The republican city ticket is complete. S. B. Heddles heads the list as candidate for Mayor, Arthur Badger for city clerk, Charles Reeder for justice of the peace for two years, Stanley Tallman for the short term for justice and Dr. Buckmaster for school commissioner at large. These gentlemen deserve the support of every republican voter in the city and except in the case of city clerk and justice for the short term will doubtless receive the solid vote of the city. Both Mr. Badger and Mr. Tallman will doubtless be elected to the offices they seek and deserve support.

CENTRAL AMERICA

To the average citizen the warlike demonstrations of the Latin American republics of Central and South America are accorded but little attention. To the natives of these countries they are real affairs. Nicaragua and Honduras have just completed a bloody affair. Nicaragua has been victorious and the President of Honduras has been forced to flee from his capital. Now the rest of the Central American republics are planning to make a general onslaught upon Nicaragua with their combined forces. To the average reader this condition of affairs excites but passing comment. Stop, however, and think that on this side of the Atlantic, in fact, in a neighboring community, warfare is being enacted. It means a direct loss of trade with these communities until peace is restored and while it may not affect Janesville directly it does in the total as our foreign trade is growing year by year and the United States is fast becoming a world-producing power. Central America is still a disputed trade center and every local war gives the American manufacturers a setback that will take them years to make up.

MUD-SLINGING

The present municipal campaign in Chicago is one of the worst as regards mud-slinging and casting aspersions upon the candidates' personal character that has been seen in years. One is reminded of the story of two Irishmen who came to this country before the civil war and settled in Chicago. Pat joined the republican party and Mike the democratic. It was agreed that by this method one could take care of the other always, as one of the two parties would be in power. Both men rose to prominence and as time went on, waxed fat on the public graft. It, however, happened that in one campaign the two men were pitted against each other for the same office on their respective tickets. They met and agreed to have a joint mass-meeting. No mud-slinging, merely a political gathering where both men could speak and be as friendly as in the past. The evening came and the hall was packed. Pat spoke first. He explained the agreement—no mud-slinging—and then began: "I stand before you as a candidate for office. So does my friend Mike. I went to the war; did Mike? No, he did not. When troops were called for to protect the flag, did he go? No, he did not. When men were drafted, did he go? No, he did not. He cut the two fingers off his right hand so they could not make him go and if he is any man at all he will raise his right hand to demonstrate my statement." Mike rose slowly in place and raised his right hand. The two fingers were gone. "Fellow citizens," he began, "I did cut off my two fingers so as not to go to the war. I stood at home and supported my Mother and four sisters. But my friend Pat went. Indeed he did go and after the first battle the Captain of his company paraded him before the regiment and stamped the letter D—deserter—on his shoulder and if he is any sort of a man he will roll up his sleeve and vindicate my statement." No mud-slinging here? Just a friendly campaign oration?

DREAMS

There is really no harm in being a dreamer, but the dreamer who dreams strange dreams and recites the supposed dreams to the public that he may benefit by their credence is one to beware of. Joseph became a mighty man in Egypt because he interpreted the dreams of Pharaoh successfully and from early Bible days dreamers have played an important part in the world's history. The gentlemen of color who dream of the "shoe row, the 'new hat row' or '4-11-44' is in demand by the policy-making element and right or wrong his dreams are "played" by the denizens of the lower hall. But when a man high in the world's finances dreams of great financial disasters, tells his dream to the public as a warning, it is time to look closely into the dreamer's object, his real object in being so frank with the public.

There is not only no harm in being a dreamer, but there is a kind of play of the mind which is necessary for any great achievement in science, in finance, in politics, or in philanthropy. The wrong comes not in dreaming, but in not being an honest dreamer. The dishonest dreamer deceives both himself and others until he cannot tell the difference between the truth and a lie. The honest dreamer never loses this capacity to tell the difference between the two at sight. The one is the false prophet and the other, the true. The one gives gold bricks to the public; the other often gets stoned into retirement by the people because he tells them the unwelcome truth.

The Wisconsin State Journal is promoting a crusade upon the Madison Gas and Electric company in a manner befitting a far better cause. However, the continual dripping of the water wears away a stone and they may accomplish what they are aiming at, a reduction of gas rates.

The socialist cries out that the rich man is getting richer and the poor man poorer. If the socialist would stop his preaching and go to work he might get rich too. Usually these howlers after reform howl until they get rich and then they become monopolists themselves and forget all about the poor man and his trials.

The railroad men are watching the word of settlement of the great talked of strike. They want a twelve per cent increase on the grounds that living has gone up that amount. This is true, but how about the decrease in the earnings of the roads in the same period?

The people who think that these warm days are going to last are badly mistaken. Old Father Time has just been asleep and when he wakes up he will drive spring back into her shelter for a few days longer at least.

The attack on County School Commissioner Hemmings appears to have originated from the fact he did his duty and did not listen to the whisperings of men who wanted to run even the educational system of the county.

The University Daily Cardinal comes in a flaming editorial endorsing the idea of the legislature selecting some one of the University professors as the next United States Senator. Good idea, boys; keep it up.

So Thaw is to be tried for his sanity after all. Well, it would appear as though Mrs. Thaw is receiving her share of punishment for the sins and folly of her butterfly existence years ago.

Madison is in arms against saloonmen who violate their ordinances and under the recent supreme court decision will ask that their licenses be taken away.

Sherbie and his auto have arrived in Chicago. Now for the saving of Busse and the rescue from that awful Dunne.

The price of oil has gone up again. Now watch for some new contribution to suffering humanity.

Judge Tallman would sound well; why not make it a reality by voting for him for Justice of the Peace?

Berlin is still making a desperate attempt to become the panic center of the business world.

That senatorial question is still debatable and perhaps may not be settled until May after all.

Remember that March came in like a lamb and be prepared for the outgoing of a lion.

The sheep ranchers and the cattle men are again in arms against each other.

Above seventy here yesterday and zero at Winnipeg. Nice prospect, is it not?

The time for spring moving is not yet here, but it is coming.

PRESS COMMENT.

Is Certainly in That Class
Acheson (Kas.) Globe: Our idea of a great coward is a man who won't fight unless he is drunk.

Other Qualifications Demanded
Exchange: Joseph W. Bailey of Texas has found out by this time that no man can become great merely by refusing to wear a dress suit.

No Free Space for Jamestown
Chicago Record-Herald: Owing to the dearth of railway passes, the Jamestown exposition is likely to have to pay for most of the advertising it gets in the rural press.

And Abe Was No Beauty
Exchange: There are good reasons for believing Abraham Lincoln would be greatly impeded if he could see some of the men who claim to look like him.

Doesn't Touch Root of Evil
Milwaukee Free Press: The postmaster-general has provided new regulations governing the size of the souvenir postal card, but what is needed is a cure where persons can break themselves of the habit of mailing them.

Had No Clearing Effect
Oshkosh Northwestern: Senator La Follette's direct dip into the senatorial muddle has left the several candidates just a little more suspicious and distrustful of each other than they were before.

Overdoing the "View with Alarm"
Milwaukee Sentinel: Railway presidents who wag their heads gravely over the situation by way of warning may overdo it and help to shake the confidence they fear will be shaken.

Took It Quite Philosophically
Milwaukee News: No doubt it was very painful to Senator La Follette to find that the railroad are not disposed to share his enthusiasm for Uncle Ike. However, it has not made him mad.

From a Daring Paraphraser
Evansville Review: The Rev. Olympia Brown, the woman who is always ashamed to own the name her husband gave her, is in Madison this week working up woman suffrage bills into the legislature.

Right About Face
Philadelphia North American: Having found that their manufactured panic failed to discredit President Roosevelt with the public, the high financiers are taking a more promising tack. They are indorsing him.

Keeping His Own Counsel
Oshkosh Northwestern: Mr. Stephenson is not talking for publication, but the chances are he is doing a heap of thinking. And his thoughts would probably make interesting reading if he could only express himself just as he feels.

If 'Twere Only True
Clinton Banner: Mr. Cooper is fortunate in having solid support of the legislators from this district. His support by the men who know him best and who, as it were, are his neighbors, means a great deal.

Snapper on End of This Chicago Inter Ocean: The Paris morgue has been closed as a show place for tourists. However, Paris has so many attractions that one more or less cuts very little figure with American tourists who have never seen the attractions of this country.

Their Inconsistency Demonstrated
Columbus Sun: After all, Tom Johnson, William Jennings Bryan, Joseph Wingate Folk, John Sharp Williams, and others of the "reformers" have succeeded in building comfortable fortunes under conditions which they say preclude success to the moneyless man. But why speak of inconsistency?

Another Speculation
Milwaukee Journal: A La Follette man in a private conversation in Madison, recently put up a hot one. Said he: "You don't suppose, do you, that Bob wants 'Uncle Ike' down there, sitting around the senate cloak rooms telling 'how I made La Follette?' Not on your life!" Wonder what Uncle Ike thinks.

Britain's New Leviathans
St. Louis Globe-Democrat: England's latest armored cruiser, just launched, the Indomitable, is longer and swifter than the Dreadnought. She is to have two masts of the same class, the inflexible and the invincible. These big ships cost nearly $9,000,000 each. A discussion about disarmament usually winds up in this fashion.

Where Does the Irony Come in?
El Paso Herald: It is the irony of fate, that in her declining years, Mrs. Mary Baker Eddy should come to grief between her only son and her advisors. Mark Twain calls Mrs. Eddy "a fifty handed God of excommunication, with a thunderbolt in every hand and the appointer and instiller of the pastor of all churches and the universal comforter."

Materialism Rampant
Two Rivers Chronicle: Instead of spending a couple of million dollars for a new capitol park at Madison, the state would do better to build a decent hotel for the accommodation of legislators. The present park is of ample size and necessitates a long walk every time a legislator wishes to quench his thirst. A good deal of time is wasted in this way at every session of the legislature.

Trivial Talk About "Spinach"
Chicago Tribune: Referring to the various names given to side whiskers by English papers, such as mutton chops, ear muffs, book markers, jet-sprays, etc., the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says, "in this competition Americans are nowhere, having nothing to offer except 'animated feather dusters.' This is glaringly unjust to the style of side whisker immortalized by the late Gen. Burnside.

Also Two for Our Bob Exchange: Some one recently took the trouble to poll the Iowa legislature and found seventy-five republicans for Roosevelt, seven for Cummings, five for Shaw, four for Tatt and one for Root. If this is a criterion of the sentiment in other parts of the country it is evident that Mr. Roosevelt will have to do some lively dodging if he hopes to get away.

Though No Glory Crowns Effort
Exchange: The utter impossibility of keeping a good man down is again illustrated in the case of William J. Oliver, who has just been elected to the presidency of a trust company. Clipping coupons on a malodorous table, under the soft caresses of an electric fan, will prove a much easier task than running a scraper through the baked clay of Panama.

What the Spaniard Thinks of Us
From Henry Watkinson's Letter: The Spaniard disclaims us. He will none of us. What does he care for our psalm singing? What even for our shining dollars? Beholding with some sort of stolid ecstasy, the recent sad disclosures which have overtaken high finance in the United States, he points with pride to a line of corruption a thousand years old begot by system; born in tradition, existing by sufferance, one layer of speculation resting upon another, all perfectly understood and nobody resisting or even protesting. "There," says he, "with an air of triumph, 'with us it is live and let live; with you it is dog eat dog. Give me the good old vices of Spain."

Evan Claire Leader: The ways of the modern politician are sometimes along stonorous lines. Take for instance our worthy congressman, John J. Esch of La Crosse. He has a large amount of "halfbreed" support and it is given out by these supporters that the help of any stalwart legislators is not only not desired but will be spurned. On the other hand, along comes a heap of trouble from the third congressional district and halfbreed representatives from there say they will have nothing whatever to do with congressman Esch because forsooth, they received "no encouragement" from Mr. Esch in their long and apparently hopeless effort to unseat Joe W. Babcock. Such a doings: Mr. Esch is said to have lent his aid to Babcock in several speeches—in Reedsburg, Virgona, Richland Center and other places. And there you are!

Irish and Scotch Humor
By Ian MacLaren: Life is grave. But it is a good thing to laugh. In Ireland the humor is of a kind that is not found beyond the soil of the emerald isle. The Irish act as if every one of them had been stood on his head so that his thoughts would be unusual, and perhaps this same is best illustrative of Irish humor. It is unusual. The essential character of Irish wit is drollery. But that of Scotch wit is irony, somberness, its searching character. To put your finger on Scotch humor and define it is like catching the fragrance of a flower in the hand. English intelligence hardly ever grasps it. An Englishman merely suspects it. It is thorough and irresistible—not fun, drollery or wit. To illustrate: An Englishman is always "comme il faut" at a wedding, in dress, speech, etc., while the Scotchman takes the lead at funerals. A Scotchman never knows how to blend, as it were. He can't express his thoughts. Black is his congenial color. His face accords—but it is not black in color. It is the atmosphere of the awfulness of life in him. He creates the atmosphere desired for a funeral.

Reminders of Rome's Power
Among the Roman structures still remaining in Spain, the province of Illyria, which gave two emperors to Rome, the most magnificent is the great aqueduct of Segovia; while Northern Africa is full of ruined temples, aqueducts and amphitheatres, which remain to amaze the builders of this present age. The amphitheater at Thysdrus, in Tunisia, is one of the largest in the world—exceeding in size even the arena at Nimes.

THROWS HIMSELF UNDER TRAIN.

Oscar Nyier of Cambridge, Ill., Commits Suicide in Iowa.

Mount Pleasant, Ia., March 27.—A man identified by memoranda and papers as Oscar Nyier, a tailor of Cambridge, Ill., committed suicide about eight o'clock Tuesday morning by throwing himself under the wheels of the Burlington fast mail. Witnesses saw him tie a handkerchief over his eyes and throw himself on the track just before the train reached him. Disconnected notes in his memorandum book would indicate that the man was either insane or a fugitive charged with some crime.

Killed in Motor Car Accident.
New York, March 27.—Col. James M. Varnum, formerly surrogate of New York county and once a member of the assembly, was fatally injured Tuesday night when his automobile, in which he with his wife and Miss Mary Frink, a relative, were being driven to the theater, collided with a Broadway surface car. He was hurried to a hospital and died while being placed upon an operating table.

"Same Old Story"

A patient recently consulted Dr. Richards about needed family work. Had been paying $10 each for gold crowns and was tired of the burden. Said had been doing so for social acquaintance and friendship sake, but couldn't see the use any more of paying twice as much for work as was necessary.

This is the way people look at it. When they think.

And the time most people think is when the bill is presented for payment. You may have the very best dental work obtainable in the city for $5 a tooth and you may pay $10 for the very same if you go blindly along. It's all in.

Where you go for your dentistry. Will it not pay you to choose the right dentist before you begin the work?

TO BEGIN HAULING FREIGHT ON JUNE 1

Rockford & Interurban Co. is Building a New Car in Order to be Fully Equipped For Business.

William Parquar of Rockford, one of the heads of the traffic department of the Rockford & Interurban railroad, is in Janesville today. He says that the company expects to commence carrying freight to and from this city about June 1. It has been impossible to take advantage promptly of the freight-carrying franchise amendment passed by the local city council on account of the lack of depot facilities and cars. The interurban car manufacturers are overworked with orders and can assure deliveries only a year in advance. The R. & I. Co. therefore decided to build its own rolling stock and has under construction and nearing completion a freight car of the same type as the three now in use between the Forest City and Beloit. Depot arrangements here have not as yet been made.

COCAINE VICTIM IS IN SERIOUS STATE

H. H. Harris of New York, a Commercial Traveller, May be Taken to County House Today.

H. H. Harris of New York, a commercial traveler who arrived in the city Monday, is in a critical condition as the result of long continued use of cocaine and Dr. Woods and Farnsworth were summoned to his bedside this morning. For twenty-four hours he had taken no food and his failure to appear at meals caused an investigation to be made by the management of the hostelry where he is stopping. Harris is about 30 years old and had been addicted to the habit for about five years. It has grown on him so that he now requires about 40 grains each day. He appears to have no friends in the immediate vicinity and is without the necessary means to convey him to his home. It has been learned that he belongs to the Fraternal Order of Eagles and the local series may possibly decide to have him taken to the county house for treatment.

BIRTHDAY SUPPERS WERE HELD TUESDAY

The last two named received silver spoons.

NIGHTLY SERVICES AT PRESBYTERIAN

Compassion Week Being Observed—Rev. J. H. Tippet to Speak This Evening.

Compassion week services are being held at the Presbyterian church this week. The meetings of Monday and last evening were well attended and goodly sized gatherings are in prospect for the remaining devotionals, to be held this, Thursday and Friday evenings. Rev. J. H. Tippet of the Methodist Episcopal church will speak tonight, and Rev. J. W. Laughlin will be in charge tomorrow night. It being the regular weekly prayer meeting day. The services begin at 7:30 o'clock.

Meetings at the Mary Kimball mission are growing in numbers and interest. Those who listened to Rev. Very last night, as in his earnest manner he entreated all present to get a clean heart, live a clean life, and be men and women for God, felt that they had been blessed, and helped, and so expressed themselves. Rev. Very will speak at the mission again this evening. All are cordially invited to come out and hear him; and join in the good work.

The Athena class has engaged Prof. Wm. S. Davis to present a lecture on Modern German History at Library hall Thursday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock. Invitations have been extended to the study clubs of the city.

ARTHUR JONES TO RUN IN THE FIFTH

Will Run for Alderman from the Fifth Ward as an Independent Democrat.

At the special meeting of the common council last evening the resignation of Paul Randolph as alderman from the fifth ward was accepted. After disposing of his business interests in Monterey Mr. Randolph sought to rent a home in the vicinity but was unable to do so. He finally secured the Mrs. Austin residence on Milton avenue and as this necessitated his moving out of the ward, his withdrawal from the council became necessary.

Friends of Arthur Jones, superintendent of the Rock River Woolen mills, promptly took steps to have the vacancy filled at the forthcoming election. His nomination papers as an independent democratic candidate were filed with the city clerk this morning and he will have one row of the fifth ward voting machine all to himself on election day. His name will appear in column 8 which was reserved for Fred S. Sheldon, candidate for a one-year term as alderman from the third ward. But while Mr. Sheldon's name appears in the republican row and the pulling of the lever will register a vote for him along with the other candidates on that ticket, Mr. Jones' name will not appear in the regular democratic row, and his friends will have to manipulate one of the lower pointers to vote for him. Any independent candidate may have it stated in not more than five words what he stands for; whether it be municipal ownership of gas factories or the principles of a given party; and it is under this provision of the primary law that Mr. Jones will run as an independent democrat.

The party committee was unable to place him on the regular ticket owing to the fact that the vacancy was in the office and not in the nomination. Democratic electors of the ward might have held a caucus and elected him, but the party committee was unable to do so, but the time when such action was permissible expired last evening. Individual nominations can be made up to within four days of election but in this instance it is not thought probable that there will be any opposition candidate in the field.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Orr Laughlin is home from Wayland Academy for the Easter vacation. E. C. Schlatter, manager of the Janesville Cement Plant, is transacting business in Chicago today.

Miss Marie Scarelliff entertained about twenty-five of her little friends on Monday afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Scarelliff. It was little Miss Marie's seventh birthday and she was remembered with many pretty little gifts. After music and games refreshments were served and the little ones returned home after having a royal good-time.

Dr. P. T. Richards and son Paul visited in Brodhead yesterday.

Mrs. Oscar L. Brownell and children departed yesterday for the Isthmus of Panama, where they will join Mr. Brownell, who is a carpenter in the employ of the United States Government.

Miss Leah Rowe returned to La Crosse today after a few days' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Rowe.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Newman announce the arrival of a nine-pound son born last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Gardner of Brodhead visited in Janesville.

District Attorney J. L. Fisher is in conference with Attorney General Gilbert at Madison today.

Mr. and Mrs. L. S. McMillan of Chicago were visitors in the city last evening.

C. E. Copeland of Evansville was in the city last night.

Mrs. Oliver P. Smith of Beloit was a visitor in Janesville yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sandur of Milwaukee were visitors in the city last night.

Mrs. Jennie Bump and daughter, Miss Stella Bump, of Denver, Colo., who have been visiting in Woodstock, Ill., are now the guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Tullman and expect to remain for several weeks.

Harverson, Prefecture of Wooster, Mass., is expected to arrive here this evening or tomorrow for a visit with his aunt, Mrs. J. W. St. John.

Large Transfer Made: One of the largest real estate deals of the season is that by which J. R. Lamb comes into possession of the Judge Phelps farm of 375 acres. This is one of the best stock farms in Rock county. The purchase price was $27,000.

Special Meeting: There will be a special meeting of W. H. Sargent Post, G. A. R., at post hall tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock, to arrange for the funeral of P. G. Strickler, J. F. Carle, Commander.

Marriage Licenses: A marriage license and special permit to wed at once were obtained at the courthouse this afternoon by George W. Burns and Miss Lena Pasinger, both of Tl. sin, Ill. Applications for licenses have been filed by Ernest P. Blaschke of Paltschkowo, Germany, and Emma E. Stemke of Janesville; and John H. Schiele and Ava Franz, both of Evansville.

Spring Plowing Begun: Farmers in all sections of the county have commenced their spring plowing and unless weather far different than that of the present is experienced the work will be completed earlier than ever in the recollection of even the "oldest inhabitant." The frost is almost entirely out of the ground and "interferes" but little with the progress of the shares.

Amusement for Children.

If parents would invest in a small amount of ordinary modeling clay they would feel well repaid in seeing what a source of amusement it is for the children. They rarely tire of the work, and very quickly learn to model useful household articles. Vases, jars, delfines and even flower boxes can be made, and when covered with enamel paint prove useful for the summer piazza.

OF INTEREST TO THE FARMERS

Diversifying Farming the Most Profitable.

If we look back at the past twenty years and see the wonderful strides and advancement that have been made in our farming communities and the many thousands of acres of new land that has been put under the plow, and is now producing crops for the population of our congested cities, we should not wonder that with the aid of our agricultural department and experiment stations, we have been taught the lesson of diversifying as well as taught the right way to cultivate a new crop.

A few years ago localities were only fitted with one or two varieties of crops. One community would have all potatoes, another all rye, oats and buckwheat, still another all of something else. Since it has been accepted that it is just as important to farm scientifically as to run a commercial business, we have begun to study what scientific farming means. It means diversification, and diversification means a variety of crops.

Just at this time great interest is being manifested throughout Wisconsin relative to the raising of sugar beets as a very profitable crop for our farmers. It is claimed that sugar beets are more certain of yield than most of other crops grown in the state, that they are less exhaustive to the soil than many other crops and because of their certainty of yield and fixed market price they assure a good profit to the grower.

Now different states are adapted to different crops, hence you must select from the many products that the public demand and must grow those best suited to your locality, and if that proves to be sugar beets, potatoes, small grain, etc., then plant some of each, a few acres of beets and a few acres of potatoes and a few acres of something else. If one for any unavoidable reason should fail you have the others left. While if you have all of one kind of crop you hardly get an even break for if that should fail you are done until the next year. On the other hand, if all the varieties do well your results are sure to be better than any one crop could produce, because you have lessened the production which is sure to better the price. Nothing builds up a farming community quicker or faster than the fact of being able to raise more than one kind of a crop. Nothing will hold it down longer than a country that has established a reputation that it can raise only one crop.—Exchange.

Francis Patrick Keeter
Funeral services over the remains of the late Francis Patrick Keeter were held from St. Mary's church at nine o'clock this morning; Rev. W. A. Goebel officiating. The pallbearers were Frank McGinley, Robert McGinley, John McGinley and Emmett Healy. Interment was in Mount Olivet cemetery.

REGULATION OF CHILD LABOR IS PROVINCE OF NATION, NOT STATES

A regular meeting of the civic club of the Baptist church was held last evening and in a general discussion the question of child labor and its regulation was thoroughly studied. By a vote the club decided that national legislation, as opposed to state legislation, was the only effective means of control.

Less by Fire: Fire this morning destroyed the haystacks and rail fences on the Elijah Wixom place five miles from the city and this afternoon neighbors were at work adding in putting out the flames. No buildings were destroyed. The origin of the fire is a mystery.

RIOTERS AND TROOPS IN BLOODY BATTLE

FIGHT IN STREETS OF ALEXANDRIA, WALLACHIA.

SIXTY MEN ARE KILLED

Wounded Number, 300—More Soldiers Concentrated at Bucharest—Dramatic Scene in Roumanian Parliament.

Bucharest, March 27.—Reports have been received here of a regular battle between peasants and troops in the streets of Alexandria, Wallachia, about 50 miles from Bucharest. Sixty men were killed and 300 were wounded before the rioters were repulsed. Alexandria has been placed under martial law.

Bucharest Ready for Attack.

An additional 1,000 troops under the command of Gen. Corniceanu have been concentrated in the vicinity of the capital for protection against a peasant attack, and in the fear of such an occurrence the royal palace has been surrounded with artillery.

During the sitting Tuesday afternoon of the chamber Premier Sturdza appealed to parliament to assist the government in the difficult task of passing the urgent measures presented for the purpose of quelling, promptly, the peasant disorders.

Old-Time Enemies Reconciled.

Ex-Minister of Finance Ionesco, on behalf of the conservatives, then made a moving speech in which, in view of the alarming state of the country, he urged the house to unanimity on this pressing matter. At the close of M. Ionesco's remarks the chamber witnessed a dramatic incident. M. Sturdza and M. Ionesco, who for many years past have been bitter political opponents, shook hands effusively amid thunders of applause.

The sitting Tuesday was one of the most important ever held by the Roumanian parliament, and its close with the reconciliation of M. Sturdza and M. Ionesco is considered befitting the solemnity of the occasion.

Great Alarm in the Capital.

Vienna, March 27.—A dispatch received here from the frontier of Roumania says the advance of the riotous peasants on Bucharest continues. Up to the present time it has been found impossible to divert them. There is great alarm in the Roumanian capital.

The garrisons in 18 of the forts forming the defense of the city have been increased, and the royal palace, where King Carol and Queen Carmen Sylva reside, is strongly protected by soldiers.

THE BUSY MAN'S CORNER.

The glaze mill of the Austin Powder company at Fall Junction, O., blew up and two men were killed.

The plant of the Mononite Publishing company at Elkhart, Ind., was damaged by fire to the extent of $65,000.

The town of Lincoln, N. J., offered Upton Sinclair a big house and fertile land for the burned-out colony of Hell-corites.

Hugh G. Shaugh, the organizer of the Brotherhood of Railway Postal Clerks, was dismissed from the railway mail service.

Jesse F. Wellborn has been chosen by the directors of the Colorado Fuel and Iron company to succeed the late Frank J. Hearne as president of that company.

Judge Samuel Ryan, aged 83 years, the oldest editor in Wisconsin and one of the oldest members of the Odd Fellows, died of pneumonia at the home of his brother, James Ryan, in Appleton, Wis.

In a duel over a poker game at Reserve, La., Superintendent T. W. Farrell of the Riddick-Orleans Lumber company, was killed outright and Benjamin P. Bourgeois, his opponent, was seriously wounded.

While John Corcoran of Yonkers, N. Y., was ramming a charge of dynamite into a hole in a rock with the handle of a broom the charge exploded and the broomstick was driven through his body below his heart.

MOTHER'S INSANE DEED.

Strangled Her Little Daughter and Then Attempts Suicide.

Akron, O., March 27.—During the absence of the other members of her family Tuesday, Mrs. James R. Hemphill strangled her daughter with a rope. When her husband returned from work he discovered Mrs. Hemphill in the act of hanging herself to a bedpost. After he had cut her down she declared that she had sent the little girl to Heaven, where she thought she also ought to be.

The woman had shown no signs of insanity previously. She has been a prominent worker in the First Congregational church, and the family is well-known here.

Insane Murderer Acquitted.

Ponca, Neb., March 27.—The trial of Frank Brink for the murder of his sweetheart, Bessie Newton, came to a sudden and unexpected termination Tuesday. Five physicians from Ponca and Sioux City, Ia., made an examination as to the mental condition of Brink and unahimously agreed that he was suffering from melancholic insanity, and at the time of the tragedy was unable to distinguish between right and wrong. The jury was instructed by the judge, and returned a verdict of not guilty.

Judging the Goods.

Your show windows tell the character of your goods and of the interior of your store.

Dark, poorly lighted windows give the impression that there is "nothing doing."

Brightly illuminated show windows draw more people and sell more goods than low prices and expensive advertising.

Mr. Merchant, give us fifteen minutes of your time and we can show you how you can greatly increase your sales at very little expense.

Paint Your Home with New Era Paint

It's pure paint every atom of it

It won't cost you so much money to do the job as it will if you use so-called "cheap" paint, because New Era Paint covers more surface to the gallon and wears much longer.

Added to the saving in actual cost, is the important fact that your home will look better, for New Era Paint gives a better finish and protects the surface from the elements.

The Oldest Established Firm in Southern Wisconsin

The firm of Mrs. F. A. Bennett & Co. is not a new concern. It was established in 1874 by Mr. Franklin A. Bennett and is probably the oldest business firm in southern Wisconsin. Since the death of Mr. Bennett the business has been carried on very successfully by Mrs. Bennett, and it has grown so fast in the past year that Mr. F. W. Freeborn was appointed manager and salesman. An innovation to the monument business of Janesville, and in fact, this part of the state, has come about through the installation in our shop of what is known as a pneumatic tool plant of the very latest pattern from the Foster & Hosler Co., of Chicago, the largest manufacturers of this class of tools in the country. The apparatus is little short of wonderful in its operation and is on the same principle as the pneumatic drills used for mining and drilling purposes. An air pressure of sixty pounds operates an automatic hammer which, in the hands of an expert granite cutter, will carve letters and trace inscriptions much more quickly and better than can possibly be done by hand. The finest raised letters can be cut, and this work is not possible for hand labor. Mr. Richard Sandaway, an expert monument cutter and an adept in the operation of the pneumatic tool, with eleven years' experience, who learned his trade in Pittsburgh and who has worked in the largest shops in Chicago, has been added to our force and will be in charge of our lettering, finishing, etc.

It is a wonderful sight to watch this machine in operation, and Mr. Sandaway will be pleased to demonstrate its work to visitors at any time and you are especially invited to call. We received this morning a big carload of the beautiful red Wisconsin Mahogany Granite for which we have the exclusive agency. We also handle every leading granite in the United States and our purchases are all made in car lots direct from quarry owners, not from jobbers. This fact, and the fact also that we do business on our own capital, places us in a position to save people money.

The Rise of Jimmie Johnson.

X.—"HOW'D YE DO IT, JIMMIE?"

Shortly Mr. Johnson was a multimillionaire. Cronies read about him, saying, "Well, I do declare!" One who knew him early said: "You wuz as pore as me. How'd you do it, Jimmie?" "Oh, I ADVERTISED," said he.

Before The Footlights.

The Negro Types on the Stage. Thomas Dixon, Jr.'s widely discussed play, "The Clansman," will be the attraction at the Myers theatre Saturday, March 30, matinee and evening.

Mr. Dixon's play is anything but conventional; it strikes out on new lines. From beginning to end the in-

South Carolina is an educated mulatto, a man of ability, and one who should have done something towards the betterment of his own race, but misled by the false protestations of northern fanatics, he falls into ruin and disgrace, simply because he has deserted his own color; Aleck, the old sheriff, is also for a time misguided, but as soon as he comes in contact

SCENE IN "THE CLANSMAN," WHICH APPEARS HERE SATURDAY. The audience is sustained at the highest pitch, and the climax is intensely thrilling.

One of the most interesting features of this play is the large number of negro characters portrayed. It has been claimed that the play is a bit of an attack on the negro race, but careful observation will point out that such is not the case. There are five distinct types of negro portrayed. Gus, the captain of the guard, is, of course, a negro brute and beast; Silas Lynch, the lieutenant-governor of Advice of the largest coffee dealers in the world is always to buy the old-fashioned Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee in the sealed packages. Don't ask for a pound of Mocha and Java, or buy by the price, for Coffee fluctuates and you cannot get the same coffee for the same price all the time unless you pay too much for it. Most of the so-called Mocha and Java Coffee is simply masquerading, and is not nearly as good coffee for you as Arbuckles' ARIOSA, the blend of the Brazilian Coffees most suitable to the taste and health of American people. By the looks there is no difference between roasted Java and Brazilian Coffees; many people drink Brazilian but pay for Java. The principal difference is that Arbuckles' costs you less. It is a mistake to believe that a high price guarantees quality. When you buy Arbuckles' ARIOSA Coffee, you get a full one pound package of the leading Coffee of the world. Its sales for 37 years are greater than the combined sales of all the other packaged coffees. By giving better Coffee for the money, we have built up a business exceeding the combined businesses of the four next largest coffee firms in the whole world. If your dealer will not supply the genuine, write to ARBUCKLE BROS., New York City.

NEXT SOCIAL UNION MEETING.
 Ladies' night to be held Tuesday, April 23. Program being planned by committee consisting of Joseph Hay,
 J. L. Bostwick, H. Jones, Ernest Korst and E. C. Salvary. No arrangements have as yet been definitely settled upon and announcement is to be made later.

The American citizen, his making and his worth and demerits, were discussed at the March meeting of the Social Union, club held in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. building last evening. The program was in charge of Dr. F. G. Wolcott and his choice and arrangement of topics, each of which was placed in the hands of an able speaker, provided an excellent treat. The first Americans, the foundation of our nation, were handled by E. J. Haumerson, his topic being "The Original Stock." The speaker called attention to the fact that the families of long residence in America were of composite character, having the blood of Pilgrims, Cavaliers, Puritans, Dutch, Huguenots and Swedes. The Puritans came for religious freedom, the cavaliers for political freedom. These men were scholars, ministers, statesmen, all of strong convictions and earnestness of purpose and from the Puritans in New England and the cavaliers in Virginia came our great leaders of early days.
 The Quakers also had a strong influence on Americanism; they were the founders of democracy, equality.

C. J. Hendricks for Dr. Laughlin.
 On account of services at the Presbyterian church Rev. J. W. Laughlin was unable to appear and his subject, "The Immigrant," Why He Comes," was taken by Claude J. Hendricks. Mr. Hendricks said that after reading articles by Lincoln Stephens and Ray Stannard Baker he could find nothing to attract the European to America but possibly there is a chance for material advancement and it may be the great magnet. Here in America are the greater rewards for the Englishman's push and tenacity, for the German's desire for a home, for the Irishman's search for freedom from political oppressors and rent collectors.

The Stomach
A Bloodless Fight Between a Ta-let and a Habit—The Tablet Wins.

At the age of 22, Clarence had good digestion. He had gastric juice that could dissolve doughnuts and turn appleskins into good blood corpuscles.
 At the age of 24 he began to be profuse about the waist and lean backwards. He also began to cultivate several "chins." In his new-found pride he began to think it his duty to gorge himself on everything, the good and the bad, for appetite feeds on appetite—and every good thing is abused.
 His pictures showed that he took on weight after he put his collar on.
 At the age of 26 Clarence married and went to boarding. On top of all this, he attended oyster suppers and wine dinners, which reduced the size of his collar from 16½ to 15. With still abiding faith in the strength of his stomach he gulped his meals, and chewed them afterwards.

At the age of 28 Clarence began to hear an inward voice—a warning from the stomach. After each meal, he would feel bloated—and belching became a habit.

He began to be a light eater—and a heavy thinker. He tried to think out a cure, for now he would sit down at his meals absolutely disgusted at the thought or sight of anything to eat.

He would sit down at his meals without the trace of an appetite, just because it was time to eat.

He would often feel a gnawing, unsatisfied, "still-hungry" feeling in his stomach, even after he was through eating, whether his meal was well cooked or not.

And he suffered a good many other things with his stomach that he could not explain, but that made him grouchy, miserable, out-of-sorts and generally sour on everybody and everything.

Finally he read an account, something like this, about the truly wonderful results obtained from Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in all cases of stomach trouble, dyspepsia, and so on.
 He bought a 50c box at the drug store and took the whole box. When he started, he had little faith—and less appetite. When he finished he had absolute faith—and more appetite, and more good cheer. Things began to taste different and better to him.

Now he has no more dyspepsia, no more indigestion, no more loss of appetite, brash, irritation, burning sensation, heartburn, nausea, eructations, bad memory, or loss of vim and vigor.

Remember, one ingredient of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest for you 100 grains of food, just as it does for Clarence.

This relieves your stomach of the work of digesting until your stomach can get strong and healthy again.
 Your stomach has been overworked and abused. It's fagged out. It needs a rest.

Let Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do the work of your stomach. You will be surprised how fine you'll feel after eating, and how lusciously good everything will taste to you.

Heed the call of the stomach now!
 There's a world of good cheer in one box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets,— at any drug store, 50c.

Practice of Citizenship or Individual Excellence the Secret of the Nation's Progress, dealing with it in three sections: "The Training of the Youth,"
 "The Alien and His Debt," the Colonist." He believed that a citizen must be active to be good and that the man of little knowledge who acts is to be preferred to the idle one of much knowledge. Among the requisites of a good citizen are a responsibility toward the home community, obedience to rightful authority, recognition of superior wisdom and consideration for others, the willingness to sink the good of the individual below the good of the commonwealth. These principles should be taught to the child in the home; the church should supplement the work of the home and the school should supplement both the home and the church. But there are many homes which leave the entire work to the schools. It is a problem to make a good citizen out of an American but the alien is a harder proposition and the colonist is one still more difficult. The alien and colonist must be taught all that the American is plus the English language, American customs and American government. In teaching the colonist the prejudice against intrusion on the part of the teacher must be overcome.

Tilt Over Bible in Schools
 A discussion followed Mr. Hem-mings' address. H. C. Buell remarked on the report of the Moseley Commission from England, which discovered that the American schools were turning out good citizens. A. E. Matheson deplored the dearth of men and particularly young men in the church and asked for a remedy. Rev. J.
 H. Tippet took up the discussion and asked what the end would be when the schools and home broadened retards to teach religion, the people vaccinated the churches. Religion, he said, is scouted by high school students. He believed that we had been catering to the irreligious element and had completely driven religion from the schools, but hoped for the time when the instructors would acknowledge God before their pupils. T.
 O. Howe took exception to Mr. Tippet's view, stating that he still believed as he did when he first began teaching school; at that time his dissented with the reading of the Bible, knowing that if he should teach Christianity, he would teach according to his sectarian belief.

"Good Fellow" Is Dangerous Finding his topic, "The Citizen and City Government," too broad for a short discussion, Judge R. F. Dinwiddie took up two phases. In the story of Esau and Jacob he found a lesson. Esau was the jovial, light-hearted, popular man, who cared nothing for his birthright because, he thought nothing of it. Jacob was unpopular but possessed manhood and an appreciation of not only the present but the future. These two types have been prominent in history and are still prominent in social life. The Esaus have failed; The Jacobs have succeeded. So we should beware of allowing the Esaus to rule in our cities. Every boy has a birthright to citizenship and are not many of them selling their for messes of pottage?
 We will not rid ourselves of corrupt government until we have taken the root of the evil—the love of pleasure and the lack of appreciation for the future.

S. C. Cobb, speaking on the Aids to Good Citizenship, took a more optimistic view than any of the former speakers. He had great confidence in the young man of today, finding him industrious, honest and purposeful.
 The lack of knowledge concerning the laws was the result of lack of authorities in the homes, where some of the fault-finders presided. One of the most promising of conditions was the wonderful contrast between the immigrant and the American.

During the evening, Miss Nora Anderson rendered two vocal solos and appreciative applause followed her.
 She gave a third selection. Mrs. F. F.
 Lewis presided at the piano and for one a cello obligato was played by Mr. Lewis.
